WRIGHT BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Makes Successful Flight in Aeroplane at Fort Myer.

PRESIDENT TAFT A WITNESS

Both Time and Distance Records Are Smashed by Noted Aeronaut With Army Officer as Passenger—Chief Executive Leads in Cheering and Personally Congratulates the Brothers
Upon Their Success.

Washington, July 28.—The world's aeroplane record for two men, as to both time and distance, was broken by Orville Wright at Fort Myer. The aeronaut made a beautiful flight of 1 hour, 12 minutes and 40 seconds, traveling upwards of fifty miles, at a speed averaging about forty miles an hour. He was accompanied by Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm of the army signal corps as passenger. The previous record was made last year by his brother, Wilbur Wright, joint inventor with him of the machine in which both achievements were performed, at Lemans, France, with Professor Painleve of the French institute as passenger. That flight was 1 hour, 9 minutes and 31 seconds.

The cheering which heralded the setting of a new mark in the conquest of the air was led by President Taft in person, who had sat an intensely interested spectators throughout the flight and who insisted at its conclusion upon personally congratulating the brothers upon their success.

MARTIAL LAW AT BARCELONA

General Strike to Protest Against War in Morocco.

Barcelona, July 28.—Barcelona is now under martial law. Serious rioting has occurred following the declaration of a general strike in protest against the military operations in Morocco and the dispatch to that country of large bodies of troops.
Several persons have been killed and a large number wounded.

There has been much fighting in the streets and practically all communications have been destroyed. The food supplies have been cut off, resulting in great hardships and suffering, especially among the poor. The prices of the necessities of life are almost prohibitive.

PLOT TO OVERTHROW GOMEZ

Castro Revolutionary Scheme Disclosed in Venezuela.

Caracas, July 28.—The imprisonment of a German subject named Theodore Hauer, who recently arrived there from Europe, and Raymond Porpacen, his Caracas lawyer, disclosed a Castro revolutionary plot to overthrow President Gomez. Herr Hauer ostensibly represented General Castro in an attempt to sell the former president's stock in various Venezuelan companies, but in reality
he was organizing a Castro revolution.

LUMBER AND GLOVE DUTIES

Important Conference Takes Place at White House.

Washington, July 28.—A conference between the president and eleven prominent members of the house, including Stevens and Tawney of Minnesota and Martin of South Dakota was held at the White House. Its result threatens to tip over once more a conference tariff agreement which substantially had been reached.

It was hitherto before. Now it is lumber. More than incidentally gloves play a part.

It is declared that Mr. Payne has been bolstered up to a determination not to sign a conference report that provides for the senate rate of $1.50 per thousand on rough lumber. President Taft has told him to stand firm.
It was pointed out by the members in the conference that free lumber failed to pass the house by only eight votes and that five members of the ways and means committee who failed to vote for it, although they favored it, because of their relations to the Republicans who framed the original tariff measure.

At the conference the president's position as to gloves was emphasized once more and all those present acquiesced, including two of the house conferees.

The president's and Chairman Payne's position is that while there is equity in the house provision raising the duty on gloves it is bad politics to originate protection for a new infant industry at this time.

BEING "DEVILED TO DEATH"

Minority Leader Creates Amusement
in House.

Washington, July 28.—After a session of forty-nine minutes the house adjourned until Thursday, at which time it is expected that the much talked of resolution authorizing the tariff conferees to reduce the rates on leather and leather goods below those of the Payne bill will be brought in and acted upon.

When the proposition to adjourn over was submitted by Mr. Payne some laughter was created by Mr.
Clark, the minority leader, remarking that he was being "deviled to death"
for information as to when the Democratic conferees were to be called in.
"If you can tell me, I'll tell you," was the only consolation he could get from Mr. Payne.

Mr. Tawney of Minnesota aroused the house to a high pitch of excitement when he denounced Dr. Charles Richard Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, for having, as Mr. Tawney said, made false charges against him regarding his attitude on the conservation of the national resources.

THAW LISTENS TO DAMAGING EVIDENCE

Woman Testifies to Violent Acts of White's Slayer.

White Plains, N. Y., July 28.—Harry
K. Thaw sat in the supreme court here and heard a woman's testimony that made his pallid face flush. He saw a pearl handled dog whip exhibited and he heard the witness swear that she had seen him wield it on the bare flesh of young girls. The prisoner's wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, heard most of the testimony.

The witness was Mrs. Susan Merrill, a buxom, pink checked woman of about thirty-five years, and she opened a new chapter in the life of Stanford White's slayer. She told of alleged acts of his between 1902 and 1905, when he was a young bachelor about New York before the tragedy on the Madison Square Roof Garden, which resulted in his being placed in the state asylum, from which he is now trying to escape.

Her testimony was in marked contrast to that of two alienists who went on the stand and gave Thaw a clean bill of health, declaring that in their opinion he was sane. Summarized her testimony was that during the three years named she kept in succession two New York lodging houses, where Thaw rented rooms under assumed names and to which he brought at various times more than 200 girls. After Thaw's imprisonment, she said, she paid these women at least $25,000 as the price of their silence and to "keep them from bot-tering Thaw's wife or his mother." One of them, who, she said, passed as Thaw's wife, received $7,000. The money came from Thaw.

Whip Introduced in Evidence.

After telling of Thaw's engaging the rooms the bearing of the evidence upon the question of the prisoner's mental condition became apparent.
For at this point the mysterious package which was brought to court by Clifford W. Hartridge, Thaw's former counsel, was unwrapped and a pearl handled whip about three feet long was brought into view. With this before the eyes of court and spectators the woman related a series of stories about finding Thaw on several occasions lashing the girls upon their bare arms and bodies.

Thaw, said she, had posed as a theatrical agent and had lured the girls to his rooms with promises of engagements. When she remonstrated with him, she testified, his excuse was that the girls "weren't smart enough and could not fill their position and deserved a beating." She testified further that Thaw had frequently behaved in a violent manner in her presence and that she considered his acts irrational.

Of all the curious kinds of lace, especially old lace, the most curious is that which is called point tresse. It is very rare and was made of human hair. French collectors say it exists in the present day only in their cabinets. It was confined to the early part of the sixteenth century.

Young Poet Ends His Life.

Philadelphia, July 28.—Calsia Mo-lusky, a young Polish poet, disheartened in his hope in finding fame and fortune in this country, committed suicide by shooting himself while in the presence of a group of his friends.

HOUSE WINS ITS BATTLES

Free Hides and Oil and Higher Rates on Gloves and Hosiery.

SENATE GAINS SOME POINTS

Payne's Victory a Costly One, as the House Conferees Conceded to Those From the Upper Branch Increased Duties on Lumber, Coal, Iron Ore and Print Paper—Placing of Oil on Free List a Foregone Conclusion.

Washington, July 28.—From the best information obtainable it appears that the house has won its battles for free hides and oil and increased rates on gloves and hosiery, in return for a surrender to the senate on lumber, coal, iron ore and print paper. The rates on these schedules, as they have been tentatively arranged, pending the acceptance by both houses of a reduction in the duties on manufactures of leather below the rates fixed by the house, are as follows:

Oil, free; hides, free; coal, 45 cents a ton; print paper, $3.50 a ton; iron ore, 15 cents a ton.

Lumber, rough, $1.50 a thousand feet; one side finished, $2; two sides finished, $2.25; three sides finished, which may include tonguing and grooving, $2.62½; four sides finished, $3.

Gloves, $4 per dozen pairs, not exceeding 14 inches in length, which is the standard length; exceeding 14 inches, 35 cents per dozen is added for each inch. This rate does not apply to the Schmasschen, or cheap glove, on which the senate rate of $1.25 per dozen pairs is retained. The latter rate is a reduction from the Dingley rates, but the house rates accepted on the higher grades of gloves represent heavy increases over existing duties.

Hosiery valued at $1 or less, per dozen pairs, 70 cents, as against the senate and existing rates of 50 cents.
On values up to $2 the rate is slightly in

Excess of Existing Duties and a shading below the rates fixed by the house. On the highest grades the senate and house rates were identical.

For nearly a week the question of putting hides on the free list or imposing a nominal duty upon them has been before the conference committee. Not even a nominal duty proved acceptable to Representative Payne, whose position was strengthened by the support of President Taft, and the senate was compelled to yield in spite of the fact that free hides threatened to provoke an insurrection among "stand pat" senators from cattle raising states. It appears, however, that Mr. Payne's victory was as costly as the other one, inasmuch as the house conferees were defeated on coal, print paper, iron ore and lumber.

Although new oaths of secrecy were taken by every member of the conference committee it is well understood that the foregoing rates represent the understanding that has been reached on all of the subjects which engaged executive attention during the last few weeks.

As the house passed the bill coal was made dutiable at 47 cents a ton, with slack at the same rate, but reciprocal provisions had the effect of putting coal on the free list. The senate contended for a duty on coal and a compromise on 45 cents a ton was accepted in lieu of the house rate and the free reciprocal arrangement.
Slack was made dutiable at 15 cents a ton.

The house put iron ore on the free list and the senate fixed the rate at 25 cents a ton, but the conferees agreed to accept a rate of 15 cents.

Retain Senate Lumber Rates.

The chief victory won by the senate was the retention of its duties on lumber. These represent reductions from Dingley rates, but are not nearly as low as the house rates, which began with $1 on rough lumber. Likewise a victory was won by the senate through the acceptance by the conference committee of a rate of $3.50 a ton on print paper instead of the $2 rate fixed by the house.

The placing of oil upon the free list was the foregone conclusion by reason of the strong opposition in both branches of congress to making this article dutiable. The senate adopted a form of countervailing duty, but the conferees were unable to retain it in the bill.

There seems to be no doubt that the house leaders will be able to put through a rule permitting the conferees to make reductions in the rates on manufactures of leather.

If there is any danger of the programme falling the trouble is in the

LATHAM'S AIRSHIP FALLS INTO CHANNEL

Accident Occurs Almost in the Moment of Victory.

Dover, Eng., July 28.—Hubert Latham's second attempt to fly across the English channel ended disastrously.
Almost in the moment of victory his aeroplane fluttered down into the sea two miles beyond the admiralty pier like a bird with a broken wing.
Thousands of persons crowding the water front saw the fall and for nearly half an hour they were kept in suspense, not knowing whether the daring aeronaut had met death or again had been rescued from the water.

A flock of large and small craft raced to the scene of the disaster and a pinnacle from the British battleship Russell picked up the unlucky flyer and put him aboard the French torpedo boat destroyer Escopette. After a surgeon had attended to his injuries
the destroyer brought Latham ashore and he was taken to the Lord Warden hotel. His face was bandaged and bleeding and his nose was broken.

The machine was badly wrecked.
Latham's flight to the moment of its sensational finish in some respects eclipsed Bleriot's. He made greater speed, being only twenty minutes in the air from the time he left the coast of France. Apparently he steered a straighter course than Bleriot, as he was making direct for Dover when he fell.

TRAGEDY AT LITTLE ROCK

Sensational Shooting in Courtroom
During Hearing.

Little Rock, Ark., July 28.—Shooting
over the head of United States Senator Jeff Davis, Y. Ellis, a resident of Pine Bluff, fired a bullet into the heart of Nathaniel Parker Willis, owner of a liquor cure at Indianapolis, in the circuit courtroom here.

The shooting was the tragic ending of a law suit brought by Willis against his divorced wife, who had subsequently married Ellis, for the possession of his child. Willis died almost instantly after he was shot in his mother's arms, who was waiting across the room and rushed towards him as he fell in the hallway outside of the courtroom.

While Judge Fulk was seated at a table in the courtroom, discussing with Senator Davis the conditions of the transfer of the child, Ellis pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired point blank at Willis, who was seated across the table. A court attache knocked up his arm just as the weapon was discharged and the bullet was embedded in the wall.

Willis ran around the table, with Ellis close at his heels. The latter rested his pistol against the door jam just as Willis ran out and fired a second time. Willis fell to the floor dying, clasped in his mother's arms.
Sheriff Roberts seized Ellis, pulling him into an ante-room to prevent any further shooting. He surrendered his pistol to Judge Fulk and was at once taken to jail.

ered beautiful must have small eyes, thick lips, a large, flat nose and an intensely black skin.

CABBAGE has given way to alfalfa in the manufacture of cheap cigars. This should make the "petrol" butter turn yellow with envy.

ALL our country exchanges are howling because there is no tariff on air ships, don't they want the poor man to have some show?

SUNDAY is the last day for the sale or giving away of cigarettes in this state—legally. In the opinion of the legal lights the law is constitutional and will hold.

THE Johnson presidential boom has got to journey from Seattle across the continent, as it is expected to be launched there next week. Better send some one with it to see that it does not get lost.

THE attorney general finds that the appropriation of $75,000 for the state capitol approaches is a valid expenditure. That is safe anyhow, but how about the state grand stand appropriation?

THE absconding bank cashier at Tip-ton, Ind., was polite about it, anyhow. He emptied the cash box of $60,000 and left a note telling them he had gone forever with "money enough to pay expenses."

THE Appeal to Reason says that "times are good—with two million men out of employment." The harvest fields of the country are clamoring for a 100,000 or so men to take care of the crop, at good wages.

JOEL HEATWOLE in his Northfield News says "now that a Swedish political club has been formed in Minnesota why not try a United States one." The suggestion is good, with both working together they ought to clean up the enemy.

THE Roosevelt are having the time of their life in the far east. On August 5th Teddy will lay the foundation stone for the African Inland Mission and Kermit will ride one of the nags in the "hoss trot" that is to be pulled off at Kijabe.

NEWS comes from the twin cities that Senator E. E. Smith, of Minneapolis, is a candidate for lieutenant governor. If "Ed." really means it the other aspirants had better look to their laurels, for he never goes after anything in the political line he does not intend to land.

THE accomplished wife of F. A. Dare, of the Walker Pilot, captured prizes at the recent meet of the northern editors at Bemidji, one of them for driving the most nails in a given time. Farley hits the nail on the head, himself, once in a while.

FRANK EDDY is in Washington, and while it is given out that Eddy is not after a job or looking for a chance to referee the tariff measure, it is not expected that he is taking a pleasure trip. Frank, however, says he is minding his own business, and that is what some other people are not doing.

LOUIS NASH, prominent in St. Paul politics, has abandoned the use of all headgear and is now known as the hatless man. A man's hat costs from $3 to $5 and is usually in commission about a year, while the ordinary headgear of a woman costs from $15 to $40 and it usually takes three to complete the season—why not make the style unanimous.

THE newspapers are again warned that they must not publish the result of raffles, and other games of chance, on pain of having their publications barred from the mails. The department will not let you send a paper to a man who does not pay his subscription, also, and thus this glorious government protects the innocent and gullible publisher from himself.

THE ordinances of the city require that circuses pay a license of $100, and small tent shows $25. The Yankee Robinson circus which exhibited here on the 23d inst. obtained their license covering the circus and small tent shows for $50. In the light of past events this leads to the inquiry as to where the economy was practiced in the transaction. If the ordinance calls for the payment of $125, why the reduction? The public are entitled to an explanation.

FRANCE is about to take steps to encourage the stork in his business if the suggestions of a member of the assembly are heeded when he presents the bill at the next meeting in October. The professor proposes that France shall pay bonuses of $60,000,000 a year to people who fill up and replenish the earth, and that this vast amount will be met by a death tax of 5 per cent on property left to the only child. There will be no bonus for the first born, but for the second $200, and a like amount for each succeeding child born in the family.

Judge Wright yesterday held the hearing in the matter of Judicial ditch No. 1 of which mention is made elsewhere in this issue. He remained over to hear a couple of civil cases which had been set for tomorrow, it being thought that the ditch hearing would consume several days. Miss Margery is taking in the carnival and expresses herself as well pleased with her first visit to Brainerd.

ROMAN PRINCE

Little Speciman of Humanity Has a High Opinion of Brainerd

The little Russian Prince is receiving visitors at the carnival this week. He is the real thing in the curiosity line, and has won the belt for being little and at the same time thoroughly amiable and accommodating.

"This is the place where I should like to make my happy home," cried the Russian prince last evening, as he gazed up from his drawing room at the faces looking down upon his lilliputian proportions. "You can just bet your boots," continued the prince, putting one tiny hand with its flashing diamonds into the diminutive compartments of his microscopic garment, which might be termed his pocket, "that when I settle down I will not forget this fine climate. The people are most charming and I should like to have my domains in Russia populated with just such irresistible attractive specimens of the feminine and masculine genders about me that have appeared this afternoon and evening."

After the prince had completed his enunciation of this somewhat lengthy and quite verbose sentiment, he fell backward with his little chair, and was fanned with a playing card. The breeze from the fan was so strong that it nearly blew his grace's head from his shoulders, but nevertheless, after he had chewed very carefully a whole lemon seed, and had been given a thimblefull of water mixed with three drops of sherry, he appeared to be wholly refreshed.

Old English Libel Suit.

Parliamentary repartee was ably upheld by Lord Brougham, especially during the great reform debates of the last century. On one occasion, when anti-reformers were trying to hawl him down by imitating the sounds made by various animals, among which the braying of the ass was most recurrent, he waited for a pause and then remarked imperturbably that by a wonderful disposition of nature every animal had its peculiar mode of expressing itself and he was too much of a philosopher to quarrel with any of those modes. This was no less severe than the famous libel on the Earl of Limerick, calling him "a thing with human pretensions," which appeared in the Times in 1831 and for which the printer was fined £100 and confined for an indefinite period in Newgate.—London Chronicle.

JUDICIAL DITCH IS KNOCKED OUT

Judge Wright Decides Adversely on Judicial Ditch No. 1 at Hearing Tuesday

OVER $1000 ALREADY SPENT

Bond Covers Only $250 and Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties Must Pay Rest

Judicial Ditch No. 1, sought to have been established in Crow Wing and Aitkin counties was given its quietus by Judge B. F. Wright at a hearing held in this city Tuesday. The ditch was petitioned for by M. C. James, of the town of Rabbit Lake, Crow Wing county, some years ago and has been before the district court ever since. The ditch was first fought by the town of Rabbit Lake, which was heavily assessed for alleged benefit to a road which was proposed to be established along the ditch. This assessment was successfully contested and afterwards other property owners contested the entire ditch, claiming that it was not of as much benefit as it would cost. It was before one set of appraisers twice, their first report having been referred back for correction by Judge McClenahan. Their second appraisal did not comply with the requirements of the law and a second appraising board was appointed which reported June 20th, to Judge Wright, who resubmitted it asking for a more specific report. This was presented yesterday and on it Judge Wright issued an order dismissing the petition for the ditch. The appraisers found the estimated cost of the ditch to be $5,349.69. They did not present a detailed statement of benefits but reported that the benefits would not exceed the cost and that the ditch, while practical, would not be of public utility.

At the hearing Tuesday R. K. Whiteley, engineer of the ditch, reported suggesting the shortening of the ditch and making it more shallow thus bringing the estimated cost below the present estimate about $1,600. This the judge declined to resubmit to the viewers and denied the petition for the construction of the ditch.

There has so far been expended on the preliminary expenses the sum of $1049.89, of which Mr. James will be compelled to pay $250, that being the amount of the bond put up by him. The balance will have to be paid by Aitkin and Crow Wing counties.

TALKS OF EARLY DAYS

Bishop Milspaugh Speaks of his Experience in Brainerd in his Pastorate Here

Right Rev. Frank Milspaugh, bishop of the Episcopal church of Kansas, who with Mrs. Milspaugh, visited in the city over Sunday, was seen by a Dispatch representative and spoke very entertainingly of his experience in Brainerd in the early days. He was rector at Brainerd from 1873 to 1876 and supplied at Ft. Ripley, Little Falls, Aitkin, Superior, Northern Pacific Junction and Duluth. He stated that he received the munificent salary of $700 per year of which $300 was paid by Duluth (which was supplied from Brainerd—just think of that.) Out of this $700 he had to spend $7 every two weeks for stage fare to Little Falls. He says that many a time he started to Little Falls at 4 or 4:30 in the morning, carrying his breakfast in the pocket of his buffalo coat and when he went to eat it found it frozen so hard that he could not put his teeth through it.

He expressed himself as somewhat surprised and very much pleased to find over a dozen of the people with whom he was acquainted here from 33 to 36 years ago still here.

From here Mr. Milspaugh went to the cathedral at Omaha, and built the present cathedral there, costing $100,000. He was afterwards rector at St. Paul's church, Minneapolis, and went from there to Topeka as rector, and later was consecrated as bishop of Kansas.

FRANCE'S FORMER PREMIER.

Side Lights on M. Clemenceau, Who Was Known as "the King Maker."

M. Georges Clemenceau, who became prime minister of France in December of 1906 and who recently resigned, was known as "the king maker." It was he who put Carnot into the presidency on the fall of Jules Grevy, whom he himself pulled down. He brought about the election of M. Loubet. He drove General Boulanger out of office and overthrew M. Freycinet. M. Clemenceau was born in 1841. By education a physician, he was also a journalist and teacher, following the latter profession in the United States, where he married Miss Mary Plummer of Greenwich, Conn., one of his pupils. In the revolution of Sept. 4, 1870, he was made mayor of the Eighteenth arrondissement and a member of the municipal committee of public instruction. At the close of the siege he went to the national assembly. He fought a dozen duels in those early days. He later dropped out of politics for many years to reappear again in March of 1906 as minister of the interior. He is a man of wealth and a skillful physician.

Before M. Clemenceau had been premier three months the religious crisis became acute, and it seemed as if his ministry must fall, but after a vigorous contest he kept his place. He seemed ever to possess the secret of keeping himself in touch with the public pulse. When the strike epidemic began early in his administration he cut himself adrift from the Socialists, with whom he had hitherto manifested sympathy, and henceforth treated all labor questions with great vigor.

Burbank's Wonderberry.

Luther Burbank, the plant culture expert, speaking of his wonderberry at Santa Rosa, Cal., the other evening, said that it was far too early in the season for the eastern people to know anything about the new variety. The wonderberry is at its best in autumn, and the report from Massachusetts that it is a failure comes before the plant has had a chance there to prove itself. W. W. Morrow, federal judge of San Rafael, said that he had eaten the wonderberry and was delighted with it. Burbank says that the eastern people will find the wonderberry all right if they will give it a fair chance to show its qualities. A huckleberry which was sent out recently and proved of no value is believed to be having its effect on the wonderberry's reputation.

OUTING

The big ball game between Emily and Outing Sunday afternoon resulted in a glorious victory for Outing, the score was 17 to 4. Living in the "slush" and "brush" keeps one limbered just the same. Come again.

The dance at Outing Saturday night was well attended. The dancing pavilion proves to be the proper thing.

Nick Rowe and I. H. Pratt, of Emily, were in town Wednesday.

The daily mail lasted two days then our Emily postmaster could accommodate us no farther. May be we can have it a little longer another time. Keep up hope.

The storms which were prayed for a few weeks ago have come at last and with all the earnestness that could be desired. The big boom of logs at the mill was broken open and began to float away when it was discovered Wednesday morning before it got so far but that it could be soon recovered with the launch.

We are glad to report the completion of the new telephone line connecting Outing with Pine River. Now the "daily" mail can be as independent as it pleases for we are always ready to answer the "Hello" call.

Forest Dexter, son of Fred Dexter, manager of Grimsrud Shoe company, Minneapolis, is at the City hotel for a few weeks outing.

Jack Gilmore was in town Saturday. Harry Brooks representing Jordan & Jordan Grocery Co., of Minneapolis, called Friday afternoon at the Big Store.

W. H. Andrews has been very busy the latter part of week hauling several large booms of logs down to the mill from the head of the lake, with his launch. Rob Andrews is engineer-in-chief.

The Outing postoffice is now to be found at R. A. Andrews' confectionery store.

Jim Fletcher is about to leave for Illinois where his wife is staying with her mother, who is quite ill. They expect to stay there the coming winter.

Mrs. C. E. Andrews, of the Big Store, drove to Pine River Saturday with several bushels of blueberries. "LITTLE JOHNNIE"

AUTO IN SAHARA DESERT.

First Trip Excited Genuine Curiosity.
Arab Chief Delighted With a Ride.

The first automobile journey in the Sahara desert was recently made by Edward E. Ayer of the Field museum, in Chicago, and Mrs. Ayer. Among the incidents was the acquaintance of the chief of nomads, who was given a seat in the car to insure pacific relations. The car was shipped from Paris to Algiers. After skirting northern Africa Mr. Ayer says:

"We kept our course south over the desert to the oasis of Biskra, where we found growing 100,000 date palms. At Biskra began the 150 mile trip toward the heart of the desert. Over the barren desert we urged our car to Tougart."

"This journey over the sands and rocks was a pioneering effort, so far as a big touring car was concerned. We were forced to carry strips of matting, each thirty feet in length, which could be stretched before the machine when we came to reaches of soft sand."

"The automobile excited the most genuine curiosity. I remember in particular one Arab chief who rode for a long time on his beautiful horse at the side of the car. His hand followed not far in the rear. Finally we suggested that he dismount and ride with us. This he did with every display of pleasure. We speeded the car along, and he grinned with all the delight of a child grasping a new toy."

Everyone would be benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. Sewell Ford's 1,500 Mile Trip In Auto.

An automobile tour of 1,500 miles without touching a tire or experiencing engine trouble is the good luck record established by Sewell Ford, the author, living at Hackensack, N. J., who recently returned from his first long trip in his new touring car. Mr. Ford and family spent four weeks on the road, stopping for some time in Boston and vicinity and visiting the various seashore resorts as far north as Portland, Me., then making an inland detour that took them almost into the White mountains. The return was made by way of Boston, Springfield, Hartford and New Haven in a quick run of two days.

ATTEMPT MADE TO KIDNAP

Effort is Made to Spirit Away the Midget Russian Prince Last Night

CRIES OF SMALLEST MAN
ATTRACTS MANAGER'S WIFE

Little Fellow is nearly Smothered and Badly Scared, But Revives
and Talks of His Escape

What is said to have been a deliberate attempt to kidnap Nicholas, the little Russian Prince, who is being exhibited on the carnival grounds, occurred last evening about closing time of the show. Mrs. Blitz, wife of the manager of the Russian prince, was startled to hear cries from the midget, whom she had left standing on the platform to get a little fresh air after an arduous evening's performance on the carnival grounds. When she rushed to the front, it is said, she spied a stranger dashing toward the entrance. He had not gone far, and as she could see nothing of the prince, she supposed that he was confined somewhere under the man's top coat.

Afterward, it is said, this theory was found to be correct, for the prince himself says he was nearly smothered in an inside pouch or pocket. His weak little voice could scarcely be heard outside, and probably for that reason those who saw the man hastening away thought nothing of what was going on. Mrs. Blitz called her husband, who was near by, and together they hurried to the entrance of the lot and headed off the man. When they reached him he was in the act of springing into an auto. Mrs. Blitz caught hold of him and eld him fast, while her husband, diving down into the bulging pocket, extracted the midget. The stranger broke Mrs. Blitz's hold and jumped into the auto and soon disappeared from sight.

Mr. Blitz heard nothing further of the man. A similar attempt was made to steal the midget while he was being exhibited in the west a few weeks ago, but the scheme did not come so near being successful. Mr. Blitz said last night that he thinks a party of showmen are watching for the purpose of kidnaping the two-foot man for their own profit.

Prince Nicholas, when seen last night, said: "My Oh my, but that was a close shave. I was awful scared when I was plunked down in that man's pocket. It seemed like being put into a bag. He got me in head first, and I was nearly smothered before I was able to wiggle around and get on my feet. Even then it was blamed uncomfortable, for the fellow who had me kept running and I was bumping against his legs. But Daddy Blitz was Johnny at the rat hole and here I am. Say, have you got a Havana about you?"

Then the little fellow went to smoking and sighed contentedly as he gazed at the people passing down the street. Mr. Blitz says that he is personally responsible for the safety of the little prince and he would not lose him in such a way for a large sum of money.

PENAL INNOVATION.

Missouri Penitentiary Will Abolish Prison Stripes For Graded Uniforms.

A radical innovation was ordered in the management of the Missouri penitentiary the other day when the board of prison inspectors, composed of State Treasurer James Cowgill, State Auditor John P. Gordon and Attorney General E. W. Major, directed Warden Henry Andrae to prepare for the practical abandonment of stripes and to uniform the convicts according to grades, says a Jefferson City (Mo.) dispatch.

Several months will be required to make the change entirely effective, and all the details of the plan have not yet been evolved. Generally speaking, it is designed by the board to have a special uniform for the prisoners who conduct themselves according to the rules. There are to be several grades of clothing, according to the merit of the inmates. Those who have attained the high merit uniform will be reduced to the uniform denoting an inferior grade when they violate the rules. The striped clothing will be retained in a restricted degree for the incorrigibles.

The board members were unanimous in this action. They believe that it will be both humane and conducive to better discipline to abandon the forbidding stripes and offer some reward for good behavior, aside from the reduction of time thus gained.

Warden Andrae was advised by the board to secure samples of cloth from which the uniforms are to be selected and to take steps to make the change effective as soon as it can be done.

Dirigible Torpedo New Wonder.

A dirigible torpedo, recently patented by a Swedish inventor, has aroused great interest in naval circles, says a Stockholm (Sweden) cable dispatch. The projectile is operated by electricity. It is said to have a range of 5,000 yards, and its course can be altered while submerged from the point of departure. It can be exploded whenever desired and has a speed of 30 knots an hour at any depth.

THE FATNESS OF HEALTH

Samose Fills Out the Curves and Makes Thin People Fat

Perfect health and good, solid beautiful flesh can only come through the use of Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food.

This makes the thin and scrawny, plump and robust; it mixes with the food so that the elements that make solid bone, firm muscle and good flesh, are thoroughly assimilated and retained in the system.

There are thousands of unhappy, nervous thin people who would look and feel entirely different if they were only fat and plump. Let them use Samose and they will soon notice remarkable results.

These statements are confirmed by H. P. Dunn's offer to refund the money to anyone buying and using Samose who does not gain in weight as promised. The risk is all his. The thin and scrawny can buy Samose at Druggist Dunn's store with the full knowledge that if it does not increase their fat it will cost absolutely nothing.

Modern Courting.

Oh, the stone age man took his stone tipped club
Whenever he went a-wooing,
And he grabbed by the hair his lady fair.
There wasn't much billing or cooing.

Then the steel clad knight on his charger bold
Rode away on adventure blind.
He'd rescue a girl, ride off in a whirl,
While the lady hung on behind.

And the country swain from the state of Maine
Would go out a-buggy riding,
While close by his side sat his promised bride,
Demurely her love confiding.

The honk-honk peal of the automobile
Came along the fair maiden to lure
From her own fireside to be a gay bride,
And Cupid became the chauffeur.

But the club, the horse, the automobile
And the buggy way down in Maine
Are not used of late. The chap up to date
Makes love in an aeroplane.

NEW MINISTER TO CHINA.

Charles R. Crane a Man of Great Business Experience and a Traveler.

The selection of Charles R. Crane of Chicago as minister to China, which was recently announced by President Taft, is the result of a search extending over five months. When Mr. Crane's qualifications were known, together with the fact that he would accept, the consideration of all others was dropped, and even the president sunk personal considerations. Four members of the cabinet know Mr. Crane personally, and all vouched for him. It is understood that Mr. Crane is prepared to go to China with very little delay.

Happily Mr. Crane embodies all the qualifications which President Taft conceived necessary for his minister to China, in view of the new policy adopted with reference to that country. He is a man of liberal education, of great business ability, of high patriotic inclinations and personal acquaintance with the far western world, its customs, politics, languages and business methods. He is a famous traveler and very well known in diplomatic circles all over the world. He began his travels when a youth and made a tour of Java, China and India, going by sailing ship via the Cape of Good Hope.

He followed up his instincts for travel by several long tours of China, going in from the east and again from the west, and he has made a special study of Manchuria.

Mr. Crane knows Russia very well, having made seventeen trips to that country, and speaks Russian with fluency. He was with the first Russian expedition which went into Samarkand and Bokhara. He is very well known in Europe and classes as his friends many famous statesmen and diplomats, among them being M. Delcasse of France and Lord Milner.

An instance of his ability to "find himself" wherever placed was related by a friend who accompanied a large party of which Mr. Crane was the head to Mexico. Mr. Crane was unknown there, but had two letters of introduction, one to an official and the other to a journalist. The first day he was there he breakfasted with the Japanese minister, lunched with the German minister and dined with the British minister. The next day he breakfasted with the chief of police and entertained in turn and was entertained by nearly all the public officials in the City of Mexico.

Mr. Crane is spoken of as one of the two or three leading citizens of Chicago. He was president and chief financial backer of the Municipal Voters' league of that city and was president of the City club. He is vice president of the Crane company, manufacturer of tubing, pipes and plumbers' supplies.

Mr. Crane was a Cleveland Democrat and is described as a "Taft Republican." Mr. Crane has three children, one, a son, having just graduated from Harvard. His uncle is the famous Professor Frederick Wells Williams, teacher of oriental languages at Yale, who wrote in collaboration with his father "The Middle Kingdom" and is himself the author of "China and Japan in the History of All Nations."

To Prevent Fraudulent Statements.

Washington, July 28.—To prevent fraudulent statements regarding the value of stocks, bonds and other securities from being circulated and sent through the mails or transmitted in interstate commerce is the purpose of a bill introduced in the house by Mr. Parsons (N. Y.).

A FIGHTING LOBSTER.

Difficulties in Planting Him on the Canadian Pacific Coast.

According to Consul General David F. Wilber of Halifax, the Canadian government is having a lot of trouble in trying to propagate the Nova Scotia lobster on the Pacific coast. The trouble is due to the pugnacious nature of the lobster, who, lobster though he is, insists on fighting at the drop of the hat, so to speak.

It is an interesting story Consul General Wilber tells, and it bears no earmarks of a nature fake. He says a consignment of 2,000 live lobsters left Halifax for Vancouver the first week in May. They were shipped by the marine and fisheries department for the purpose of propagating the lobster on the Pacific coast. Mr. Wilber says an attempt was made last year to ship lobsters west, "but owing to their pugnacious tendencies they arrived at their destination in a mangled condition."

It appears a later attempt was made, plugs being placed between the claws to prevent disastrous fighting. The plugs were not removed when the lobsters were planted in the Pacific waters, and consequently the second attempt also proved a failure.

In making the third and last shipment every precaution has been taken by the authorities. The several dozen crates were placed in a special baggage car in charge of two men. Each crate is filled with several compartments, each of which will accommodate one large lobster. Salt water, ice and seaweed were placed in the crates, the top of each crate being fitted with an ice pack and a percolating salt water tank. Where two small lobsters were packed into one berth they were so placed that they could not bite each other.

The lobster industry has never flourished on the Pacific as in the Halifax region, and a strong effort is being made to put it on a firm foundation.

DECLARES FOR LOWER TARIFF

Nebraska Republican State Convention Goes on Record.

ADOPTS STRONG RESOLUTIONS

Commends President Taft for His Attitude on Downward Revision, Urges State Delegation in Congress to Stand by Him and Declares Nebraska Republicans Will Approve Veto of Bill if Not Properly Drawn.

Lincoln, Neb., July 28.—Of the five state conventions held in Lincoln chief interest centered in the platform of the Republicans so far as it referred to the special session of congress.

As anticipated strong resolutions were adopted commending President Taft for the course he has taken in urging lower duties; calling on the Nebraska delegation in congress to stand by him in his position and approving the president's policies. The resolutions go further and declare the Republicans of Nebraska will approve a presidential veto of the tariff bill if it does not conform to Mr. Taft's construction of the platform pledges.

The significant feature of the Democratic convention was the plank in the platform strongly condemning interference by federal courts in state enactments and reiterating the declaration of the national convention at Denver on that question. The resolution has reference to the recent decision of two federal judges sitting at Lincoln in which they pronounced unconstitutional the bank deposit guarantee law passed by the recent Democratic legislature. The Democratic platform scores the Republican majority in congress for its action on the tariff bill, which it pronounces revision upward instead of downward.

Only a small number attended the prohibition convention. Its platform arraigns the last legislature for refusing to enact a county option law.

The Populists and Socialists also held conventions, but there were few delegates at either gathering. Nominations for state officers will be made by a statewide primary next month.

COLONEL MARKBREIT DEAD

Mayor of Cincinnati Expires After Lingering Illness.

Cincinnati, July 28.—Colonel Leopold Markbreit, mayor of Cincinnati and a distinguished soldier and journalist, died here after an illness extending over the greater part of the nineteen months he had served this city as its chief executive. He will be succeeded in office by Vice Mayor John Galvin.

Leopold Markbreit was president of the Cincinnati Volksblatt company, which publishes a daily German newspaper. He was born in Vienna, Austria, in 1842, and came to Cincinnati in 1848, studied law, was admitted to the bar and was a partner for a short time of Rutherford B. Hayes, who was later president of the United States. He served as captain in the Twenty-eighth Ohio infantry during the Civil war and was adjutant on the staff of General George Crooks. He was captured in 1863 by the Confederates and suffered in Libby prison for many months. Those privations shattered his health.

Colonel Markbreit was appointed United States minister to Bolivia by President Grant and served from 1869 to 1873; was assistant treasurer of the United States at Cincinnati in 1882-6 and became mayor in January, 1908.

PROFIT SHARING SCHEME

Five Thousand Men Will Benefit by Its Adoption.

Youngstown, O., July 27.—One of the most elaborate profit sharing schemes ever known in the iron and steel business will be put into effect by the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company as the result of a meeting of the stockholders. There will be distributed to the 5,000 employees between $200,000 and $400,000 each year. The yearly payroll of the company is about $4,000,000. The plan has not been fully developed, but in a general way it is stated that it is based on the earnings of the company and will reach as high as 10 per cent of the wages of the men. Every man in the works from the heads of departments down to the laborers will participate except where a scale is signed with a union for a year.

Among the American delegates to the jubilee are Dr. William H. Welch of Johns Hopkins university and the Smithsonian institution, Professor John W. Burgess of Columbia university, Professor Hans Oertel of Yale, Provost Charles C. Harrison of the University of Pennsylvania, President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell university and many other American educators of the first rank.

MAKING A NEW ITALY.

Big Southern Colony's Promoter Tells of Work Done.

MAY BE KEY TO BIG PROBLEMS

Scheme Being Tried Near Wilmington, N. C., Is Expected to Aid the South in Solving Negro Problem and That of Making Use of Idle Land—Life in New Italian Settlement.

Convinced that there is still enough good truck garden land still unoccupied along the Atlantic seaboard to support many thousands of his countrymen, Felice Ferrero, brother of William Ferrero, the Italian historian and sociologist, recently returned to New York city after a visit of investigation and inspection to an experimental co-operative Italian colony located near Wilmington, N. C.

Mr. Ferrero is certain that the experiment has reached the point where it may be designated as a success, and he expects the general spreading of the news of what it has done to turn a wave of Italian immigration southward. Heretofore this immigration has headed westward, and its deflection into the south is expected to bring an end to a certain condition that has existed in the south since the war. An experimental Dutch colony, located also in North Carolina, has so far succeeded that a group of fifty families is now being organized in Holland to come over in the autumn to prepare for next year's seeding time.

With these combined immigration movements away from the general trend of their progress across the country, Mr. Ferrero is convinced that the south has seen the end of the day when it may expect to have the "negro problem" as a special sectional difficulty and that from now on other labor will invade the market heretofore so universally surrendered to the descendants of the slaves.

Italian Government Interested.

Mr. Ferrero, who talked freely of conditions as he found them among North Carolina Italians and of the interest that he and his brother are taking in seeing such of their countrymen as like the life of farmers transplanted where there will be an opportunity for them to develop, said:

There are many organizations in Italy anxious to find good land, so that they can let their people know where best to go. Here in New York there is an Italian labor bureau in Lafayette street maintained by the government. It collects information and gives the benefit of its investigation free to all inquiring Italians. It costs the government, I should say, $30,000 a year to keep it up. This bureau will distribute at once copies of the report on the Carolina experiment and will advise Italians what they may reasonably expect to find if they settle there.

The new movement, as Mr. Ferrero sees it, will affect the negro question, the problem of getting relief in the congested centers of the big cities, the immigration question and the matter of increasing the industrial wealth of the south by turning many waste areas into farming sections.

Greatly Attached to the Land.

When asked to state exactly in what condition he found the 300 colonists making up the experimental venture at the end of their third season on the land he spoke with much enthusiasm:

They're raising the finest children you ever saw—much huskier and healthier than their half fed brothers and sisters in Italy. Italian peasants, such as these colonists were, are usually much attached to the land. With a patch of land, a bit of meal to eat and a small sum tucked away in some corner of the house such a peasant would be happy. Only the most desperate could be induced to leave.

But here after three years of work I find a people whose daily diet includes sweet potatoes, a good assortment of vegetables and even chickens and beef. Besides this prosperity, their priest assures me each family has something over $30 put aside, the product of the sales of the season's strawberry crop.

The colony has a church and a school, and all of the younger children are taught to speak English.

Most of the North Carolina Italians will come over direct from Italy and will be Venetians and people now farming in the northern provinces.

Grape and Olive Crops Thriving.

One interesting experiment in North Carolina has been that of grape and olive culture. So far the chief crops put out of St. Helena, the name of the Italian colony, have been strawberries, potatoes, English beans and cabbages, while crops of alfalfa, corn and cotton are being introduced.

Father Donati, the priest of the colony, came from a grape and olive raising family. He has experimented with both, has a thriving prospect now and is planning to bring over the members of his family in the fall with enough grapevines and young olive trees to start a large vineyard and olive grove.

Besides this new venture, Mr. Ferrero hopes to interest a few scientific farmers in the settlement so that the peasant farmers, who adopt new ideas slowly, will have before them the inspiration of model farms handled by experts in horticulture and agriculture. These, Mr. Ferrero hopes, will do for the Italian settlements what the agricultural college experiment stations have done for the western and middle western states.

Besides their work on the farms, he hopes to see established in New York another branch of the movement—a co-operative distributing system in which the Italian commission merchants in New York will keep in close touch with crop conditions in the colonies and will prepare to handle speedily the shipments of perishable truck garden crops. —New York Evening Sun.

BANK SHORTAGE GROWING

Defalcation at Tipton, Ind., May Reach $100,000.

Tipton, Ind., July 28.—The United States authorities have begun their inquiry into the loss of many thousands of dollars supposedly suffered by the First National bank of this city since the assistant cashier, Noah R. Marker, fled last Saturday night.

The officials of the bank stated that they had no further information as to the extent of the shortage, but they had reason to believe it would not far exceed $100,000.

As In a Looking Glass.

"I know I am looking like a fright tonight," said the woman.

The man studied her dress, her hair and her complexion closely.

"I don't see anything the matter with you," he said. "So far as I can see, you are looking as well as usual."

"But I am not," she insisted. "There is something wrong, and that head waiter saw at a glance what it is. If I had been up to the mark he wouldn't have put us away over here in this out of the way corner. He would have given us a table right under the chandelier in the middle of the room. All the best dressed people are always seated in the most conspicuous places, so as to make the restaurant look attractive. I am glad to say that that is where I usually sit. The plain people are ranged along the sides of the room just as we are tonight."—Philadelphia Ledger.
